

The Blacksand boat made it up to first position within the half of the Miami Race

Miami, July 15th, 2012 « It was rough water today and the Blacksand boat came from behind to the front. As we made it up to first position with half the race to go, a part failed in the transmission portion of the motor causing the team to retire from the race. We are looking forward to the next race in three weeks to be up front again » said Gary Ballough.

We will keep you inform about the next race which will be hold in Indiana. We are wishing the team to be within the first position again.

Calendar of the next races :

Michigan City Indiana, August 5
New york City, September 9
Clearwater Florida, September 30
Key West Florida, November 11
